John Czarnecki Earns Certified Kitchen And Bath Remodeler Title, Class of 2004

Newtown Square, PA – June 6, 2004– John Czarnecki of Benoit & Czarnecki Design/Construction, LLC earns the designation of Certified Kitchen and Bath Remodeler (CKBR). Benoit & Czarnecki, LLC is a member of the DelChester Chapter of the National Association of the Remodeling Industry (NARI). John received the CKBR title after successfully completing the intensive NARI study program that ended with a full day examination. The NARI CKBR program is designed to raise the bar in the remodeling industry and specifically in the complex realm of kitchen and bath remodeling.

“Generally speaking, remodelers have traditionally been given a bad wrap because of unqualified and unprofessional people. Our hopes are for a national standardized training and examination process to set a benchmark. The CKBR course is an excellent way to draw that line between quality and inferior work,” said Jim Benoit, CR Construction Manager. “I am very proud of John’s accomplishment and dedication to excellence.”

The NARI CKBR program lasts for 15 weeks, consisting of a intensive study program covering all aspects of the Kitchen and Bath design, renovation, and construction. The participants are tested on their knowledge of all associated trades (plumbing, electrical, HVAC, framing, tile, etc), all areas of proper design/layout, project management, and product selection. The grueling course work ends with an eight-hour cumulative final examination.

“Nationally there are only a handful Certified Kitchen and Bath Remodelers, “ said John Czarnecki, CKBR Operations Manager. “We strongly encourage our staff to continue to expand their knowledge base and set the bar higher within the industry. The NARI certification programs are a great way to do this. It not only improves our company, but helps the industry progress and the clients to choose a qualified design/construction company.”

In addition, to the CKBR program, NARI has a Certified Remodeler (CR) program, Certified Remodeler Specialist (CRS) program, Certified Remodeler Associate (CRA) program, Certified Lead Carpenter (CLC) program, and Certified Remodeling Carpenter (CRC) program.
